

MBZUAI Attempts to Cover Up Hao Li's Scientific Misconduct

After Hao Li's employment at USC was terminated, Li joined Mohammed Bin Zayed University of Artificial Intelligence (MBZUAI) located in Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates (UAE).

MBZUAI has been notified of Li's Scientific Misconduct and as a prestigious academic institution, it is expected to address this research compliance issue.¹

Meanwhile, MBZUAI has attempted to hide ACM's and USC's investigation reports—unanimously finding Li guilty of data falsification and scientific misconduct^{2,3}—by repeatedly deleting comments, posts, and references to Li's name on its social media.

Thank you MBZUAI (Mohamed bin Zayed University of Artificial Intelligence) for removing Hao Li's name from your post but is he still going to co-host this workshop?

Research misconduct has no place in science nor in a prestigious university like MBZUAI. The investigations are very clear and leave no doubt:

ACM: https://pdfhost.io/v/402ndLsIE_ACM

USC: https://pdfhost.io/v/n9GuGETbV_USC

Please confirm that Hao Li would not be presenting at the Global Media Congress next week and conduct your due diligence on his offered position.

PS. Please don't delete my comments like you did last time 😊

Please provide as much detail as possible about the reason for your request.: Dear LinkedIn Support Team,

My flagged comment is regarding the Scientific Integrity of one of the speakers listed in the post. It is referencing two independent investigations by ACM (Association for Computing Machinery) and USC (University of Southern California) re the Scientific Misconduct committed by Hao Li and Pinscreen during a publication and presentation during ACM SIGGRAPH Asia and Real-Time Live in 2017.

All the information contained is true, relevant, professional, evidence based, and respectful.

If after a second look, the LinkedIn support team is still inclined to remove the comment, please let me know what specific portion of the policy you believe has been violated and I would be happy to respond or adjust the comment accordingly.

Thank you,
